

The Wounded Soldier in the Convent
François Coppée, translated by George Curzon

LibriVox volunteers bring you 15 recordings of The Wounded Soldier in the Convent by François Coppée.

This was the Weekly Poetry project for January 23, 2022, in honour of Coppée's 180th birthday on January 26. The poem was written in Paris during the Siege, November 1870 and celebrates caring nurses (specifically, nuns) who work with difficult patients.

 François Coppée was a French poet and novelist. He was famed as le poète des humbles (the poet of the humble). His verse and prose focus on plain expressions of emotion, patriotism, the joy of young love, and the pitifulness of the poor. - Summary by TriciaG & Wikipedia

Read by volunteer readers. 15 Tracks. Total Duration: 00:30:41

This recording is in the public domain and may be reproduced, distributed, or modified without permission. For more information or to volunteer, visit librivox.org.

Cover image: "Раненый солдат" (Wounded Soldier) by Niko Pirosmani (1862-1918)
 Copyright expired in U.S., Canada, EU. and all countries with author's life +70 yrs laws. Cover design by TriciaG. This design is in the public domain.

The Wounded Soldier in the Convent - Coppée

The Wounded Soldier in the Convent - Coppée